

Background Images

The background-image property specifies a background image for an HTML element.

By default, the background image is repeated.

Background Images for HTML Elements

This div has an image as background.

This paragraph has an image as background.

Background Images Not Repeated

This div has an image as background that is not repeated.

This paragraph has an image as background that is not repeated.

Background Images With Repeat Direction

This div has an image as background that is repeated only in X direction.

This div has an image as background that is repeated only in y direction.

Background Image Positioning

This div has an image as background that is not repeated and positioned in the top center of the div.

